

Unit 2 Quiz Review

- How may internal factors drive social change?
- What are five physical factors that can drive social change? Be sure to briefly describe each.
- What is the difference between acculturation and diffusion? Provide an example to illustrate this.
- What is the difference between a collectivist and individualist society?
- Provide one example of a rite of passage.
- What is cultural materialism?
 - What are the three levels of culture according to this theory? Describe them.
- What is functionalism?
- State one potential function for the following types of kinship:
 - Polygyny
 - Polyandry
 - Arranged Marriages
- What four aspects of change do sociologists study?
- What is the difference between primary and secondary social groups? Provide an example for each.
- What is the difference between instrumental and expressive leadership?
- What is conformity?
- Briefly describe the following studies and how they contributed to our knowledge of conformity
 - Asch's line experiment
 - Milgram's & Sherif's Robber's Cave experiment
- What is the social comparison theory?
- What is the difference between an upward comparison and a downward comparison?
- What is competitive emulation and how is it related to social comparison theory?